

LEED Accreditation

Exam Prep Study Group Program

Register Online Through the USGBC
www.usgbc-li.org

The US Green Building Council-LI chapter and Stony Brook University Corporate Education and Training is offering a new LEED Accreditation Study Group Program designed to prepare participants for the rigors of the LEED Green Associate accreditation exam.

A brief breakdown of the course contents:

- ✓ Session 1
Fundamentals of LEED, Overview, History
- ✓ Session 2
The Sustainable Sites credits
- ✓ Session 3
The Water Efficiency, Innovation in Design, and Regional credits
- ✓ Session 4
The Energy and Atmosphere credits, and Ozone depleting refrigerants
- ✓ Session 5
The Materials and Resources credits
- ✓ Session 6
The Environmental Quality credits
- ✓ Session 7
Exam taking hints, LEED online demonstration, LEED project administration.

Instructor: Paul Meyer, PE, LEED AP USGBC-LI Education Committee Chair

Program Length: 14 hours, 3 Eight-Hour Days:

Schedule:

Saturday	Saturday	Saturday
January 30, 2010	February 6, 2010	February 13, 2010

Time: 9:00 am until 2:00 pm
The Student Activities Center food court will be open all day. You're welcome to bring your own lunch.

Where: Building 17, Research and Development Park, Stony Brook University

Cost: $195 (10% off for Stony Brook employees or 3+ registrants from company)

For Additional Information
631-632-8347
sbucet@stonybrook.edu
education@usgbc-li.org